

Financial Communications Section

PRSA

"I was introduced to the Financial Communications Section by my friend Stacy Barnes. She was on the Executive Committee and invited me to join the Section. I have really appreciated the webinars directed at the financial industry and getting to know others who work in the sector. We are a small Section but I believe that we are providing a great benefit to those in our part of the public relations industry.

There is a wealth of knowledge and experience in our membership and I am so happy to be part of the group and on the Executive Committee."
