About the PRSA Public Affairs & Government Section

The Public Affairs and Government Summit addresses multi-disciplinary interests of public affairs professionals and provides access to resources of interest to communicators who hold public affairs roles in private and NGO industry sectors as well as communicators with key roles in local, state, and national governmental bodies and the military.

The 2026 Public Affairs & Government Section Summit

Redefining Public Service: Fostering Civility, Trust, and Credibility

The 2026 Public Affairs and Government Summit delivers over 12 hours of professional development across more than 15 dynamic sessions over three days. Guided by the theme Redefining Public Service: Fostering Civility, Trust, and Credibility, the summit convenes the leaders shaping how government communicates, builds trust, and serves communities.

Attendees come from all facets of government, including local, county, state, and regional agencies, as well as elected officials, executive leadership, public affairs and communications professionals, policy experts, public safety leaders, and environmental specialists. These highly engaged participants operate at the intersection of public policy, community safety, environmental stewardship, and public trust.

Sponsorship offers a unique and targeted platform to showcase your organization, participate in strategic conversations, and build meaningful relationships with public affairs and government professionals, both within and beyond traditional government spaces. With exclusive sponsorship opportunities and prominent recognition in summit communications, your organization will benefit from expanded reach, lasting visibility, and alignment with the values of civility, trust, and leadership in public service.
